

Non-Disclosure Agreement/Non-Use Agreement

Date: _____

Expert Chemical Analysis, Inc. (ECA) agrees and acknowledges on this date, all verbal and written disclosures submitted by the client and presented to _____ or associates or employees, regarding the proprietary/patentable concepts regarding the following: _____

_____ will be held in the strictest confidence for a period of _____ years from the date of this document. In addition any related proprietary discoveries made by either party during the project will also be held in confidence. Such information will not be disclosed to any other parties or used for any other purposes other than those expressly authorized in writing by the client (inventor), his attorney, or assignee. These disclosures and inventions regarding the proprietary and patentable concepts and associated disclosures regarding the formulas will be regarded as intellectual property of the client. Our company agrees not to use, directly or indirectly, any and all proprietary information relating to this project, for the benefit of any person, firm, or corporation other than the client. All work will be conducted on a best effort and professional manner but no liability can be assumed by ECA. If the client requires liability protection for any stage of the project, liability insurance must be furnished by the client.

Expert Chemical Analysis, Inc. agrees to all of the above

Read and Agreed by ECA:

_____ Date: _____

Jim Polansky, Owner/Scientist

Read and Agreed by Client:

_____ Date: _____

Printed name of Client: _____

Client's Company: _____